THE CAMPBELL 19 HOUSE 51 LEXINGTON

The Campbell House Curio Collection by Hilton is an icon reborn for the modern traveler.

The Campbell House Curio Collection by Hilton is an icon reborn for the modern traveler. Built in 1951 The Campbell House is a Lexington, Kentucky landmark with decades worth of notable stories and special occasions. A recently completed multi-million dollar renovation ushers in an entirely refreshed experience.

This historic hotel sits just outside of downtown Lexington and offers a new and refreshed experience. Located inside the hotel is The Rackhouse Tavern, the area's newest hotspot that offers a unique take on Kentucky cuisine in an upscale yet approachable atmosphere. The restaurant has a variety of flexible seating options from soft seating and booths to a communal table and bar stools. A garage door can be opened to allow an indoor/outdoor concept during warmer weather months and the fireplaces located on the patio area and in the restaurant gives it that cozy feel of southern living during cooler months.

The hotel recognizes that today's traveler, whether business or leisure, wants to feel as if they have been able to have a memorable experience. With its equestrian themed décor and antebellum architecture, that is exactly what the look and feel of the hotels accomplishes. As a traveler you will not only see the Southern influence that is quintessentially Kentucky, you will receive it in the hospitality provided.
